

GlamourGals is seeking a college student to join our team as a Social Media Intern for Fall 2022. We will need your help in drafting content for our social media (Instagram stories and TikToks) and our blog, event preparation and wrap-up, as well as day-to-day operations.

The ideal candidate has an interest in the nonprofit sector, and has experience in social media content creation, and excellent communication skills (including email writing, speaking, and telephone etiquette), attention to detail, and organizational skills. We are looking for a self-starter who has a willingness to learn and a can-do positive attitude. Exceptional candidates have knowledge of Canva and Later.

Duration: Fall 2022 (Mid-September -Mid-December)

Interns must be available to work in the GlamourGals office in New York City at least two days per week (Monday-Friday) from 10 AM - 4 PM EST and attend in-person occasional weekend events.

GG offers our interns:

Mentorship and support from the GlamourGals team

Opportunities to connect with and meet professionals

Business and nonprofit knowledge

Opportunities to participate in research, discussions, and implementation of programming strategies

Professional development

GlamourGals is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit whose mission is to inspire and organize teen volunteers to provide ongoing companionship and complimentary beauty makeovers to women living in senior homes. Our volunteers build a deeper sense of community. They enact local change, creating confidence in their ability to make a difference. Through mentorship, training, and our leadership curriculum, the GlamourGals National team supports the personal and professional development of our volunteers.

To apply, submit your resume and cover letter to Amanda@glamourgals.org. Please indicate in the subject of the email that you are applying for the GG Social Media Internship.
